M. Kemal ATATÜRK

Every year on 29th October, many people in Turkey celebrate Republic Day by attending performances and participating in traditional processions with flags and musical bands. The Turkish Republic's founder Mustafa Kemal Atatürk proclaimed Republic Day as Turkey's most important holiday. Many people go to local stadiums on October 29 to watch performances dedicated to Republic Day in Turkey. Such performances usually consist of theater sketches, poetry readings and traditional Turkish dances. Many school children participate in school performances for parents and teachers. Parades may take place in some cities and politicians may give public speeches on this day.

ONE EUROPE ONE ASIA

ASIA:JAPAN

It is thought that the first people of Japan were migrants from East Asia and South Pacific Islands. The ancestors of the Japanese people are supposed to be the same race people who gained the upper hand over warrior tribes and clans in the 3rd and 4th centuries after the so-called Yamato Race. In Japan was seen Confucian Religions and Buddhism Religiouses. These religions came to Japan in 538 through India, China and Korea. The country's first and permanent government center was established in Nara at the beginning of the 8th century. This empire reigned between 710 and 784.

In 794 a government center was established in Kyoto. This empire continued until 1192 and Kyoto became capital. Between 1333 and 1338, short-term governments were seen. In 16. century Europeans entered the territory of Japan. In this process, Christianity was intended to spread, but Japan thought it would be harmful for its own people. Therefore, all foreigners were forbidden to enter the country except the Dutch and Chinese merchants.

INTERESTING FROGS

The common frog is a medium-sized species of frog that inhabits a wide range of habitats across much of Europe. Although the common frog is not as commonly seen in our gardens as it once was, the common frog still appears to be surviving effectively within its environment and is not considered to be an animal that is currently at risk from extinction.

Today we are going to tell you about our typical breakfast. Our typical Italian breakfast is suitable for any seasons. There are different kinds of breakfast in Italy, but among the most appreciated ones we have:

Cappuccino and croissant. Cappuccino consists of milk and coffee; its peculiarity lies in its foams - obtained by whipping milk and coffee - that has to be thick on the palate. As for croissants, they can be either plain or stuffed with jam or cream. Milk and coffee with a cake called "ciambellone": this is a very simple cake to prepare. Its ingredients are: flour, sugar, butter, milk and eggs; it is possible to stuff it with cocoa, powdered sugar or dried fruit. "Crostata" is another typical cake: its ingredients are: butter, flour and eggs for the "pastafrolla" (pastry). It is more friable than "ciambellone"". which is softer. It can be stuffed with jam of all tastes or Nutella, as well.
